

RandyB Funk Christian Rapper

Christian Hip-Hop Artist, RandyB Funk is just 18, but he is working hard for teens and families in his community. He is a talented artist, who writes, raps, produces, and performs his own songs. With new song releases, a busy schedule of service drives and hip-hop benefit concerts, he juggles a schedule that would challenge most adults. RandyB has performed with some of the biggest artists in the hip-hop music industry, and lets nothing hold him back.

RandyB was selected to be the 2020 Effect Radio's 'Artist of the Month,' and Project 88.7's 'Do Good Champion.' His music recently caught the attention of industry leader BlessedBeatz, where he was featured for a radio interview. He's been busy performing and releasing four singles. His music is currently playing on around 150 stations nationwide. He has another song to be released this month, and has already produced six benefit concerts this year! With two more upcoming concerts, RandyB has created more Christian hip-hop benefit concerts this year than anyone else in Idaho! Meanwhile he juggles a full schedule of performances every month, and still accepts tour and performance dates in other states. Not to mention, he's a senior in high school online and a sophomore at Liberty University!

RandyB has headlined or opened for national headliners around the country, including IKPhew, Steven Malcolm, R-Swift, Wande, Zauntee, Peabod, and KB. His next two performances are on Oct 31st and November 12 with Christafari in the Boise area. He is also working on his second collaborative song with the legendary Christian hip-hop artist, R-Swift.

RandyB founded, and still manages SOS Service Drives, an organization he created when he was just 11 years old, which benefits the Boise Rescue Mission and the Idaho Humane Society. These drives generate an average of more than 7,000 donated items annually, and this doesn't include the cash donations generated from his hip-hop benefit concerts. He loves to make a difference!

RandyB gained extensive experience with the community through his service drives. He has also volunteered as a camp counselor for six years working with kids and teens; served as the elected class president for several years; and was the elected Youth Arts Commissioner for three years, all while attending weekly Chamber of Commerce meetings as a representative, since the age of 12, with his Mom. Additionally, he has been the recipient of multiple community awards. In multiple media interviews, when questioned about his motivation and work ethic, he credits family, community, and especially, his relationship with Christ.

RandyB Funk has a strong message of hope and victory in Christ for the youth, and his tone for both is on point. He currently has multiple songs playing on Christian radio nationwide and speaks at city venues and church youth groups. In short, this Christian rapper, philanthropist, promoter, entrepreneur, and community servant, has new music, and new ideas that are catching fire in his community. See the flyers for his next two concerts below. Notably, RandyB Funk is already the co-owner of his own promotions company and begins his annual SOS SERVICE DRIVE this month, which helps homeless pets, and the homeless community. As a talented public speaker and advocate for the homeless, he works hard to create music that will lift people up. His concerts are family-friendly, fun, energetic, and encouraging. HIS MUSIC IS AVAILABLE NOW on all major platforms.
